

Screens, reading or driving harder than they should be?

Many adults have worked around an eye teaming problem for years without knowing it. Screen time, your forties, stress or a concussion can make that workaround stop working. It's not too late to treat.

Check anything that sounds familiar

- | | |
|---|---|
| ☐ Tired or sore eyes after screen work | ☐ Afternoon headaches |
| ☐ Double vision now and then | ☐ Rereading the same paragraph |
| ☐ Neck or shoulder pain; a head tilt | ☐ Dizzy or uneasy in stores or on highways |
| ☐ Car sickness | ☐ Reading glasses help less than expected |
| ☐ Told as a child it was too late for a lazy eye | ☐ Symptoms since a concussion |

Checked two or more?

A binocular vision evaluation measures how your eyes team, focus and move, and tells you what's likely to change with treatment. Your provider gets the results, with your permission.

Book an evaluation
visionlearncenter.com
(561) 462-1245

Go to an emergency room for sudden new double vision, especially with headache, weakness, a drooping eyelid or trouble speaking.

Referral to Vision & Learning Center

CUT HERE AND BRING TO YOUR VISIT

Patient's name

Date of birth

Referring provider

Practice and phone

Reason: ☐ Headaches / eye strain ☐ Double vision ☐ Dizziness / motion sensitivity
☐ Neck pain / head tilt