

Referring a child to us: the whole process on one page

1. Who your therapists may send

Children whose handwriting, copying or coordination has stalled · kids who lose their place or tire fast at tabletop work · trouble catching, on stairs or judging distance · symptoms since a concussion. Children and adults.

2. What to send us

The referral slip or online form. If the family agrees, add the latest therapy evaluation or progress note (for example visual-motor or handwriting scores). It helps us focus the evaluation.

3. Three ways to refer. Pick the easiest.

Online

visionlearncenter.com or the QR code. We confirm with your office when the child is booked.

Fax

Fax the referral slip and any therapy note to (561) 462-1245.

Hand it to the family

Give the family the handout for families. They call (561) 462-1245 or book online.

☐ Check "Please call the family" on the slip or form and we call them to schedule within 1 business day. The family doesn't have to remember to call us.

4. What happens next

Booked: your office gets a confirmation.

Evaluated: a full functional vision evaluation.

Reported: the therapist gets a written report within 7 days, with the family's consent.

When a family asks "Is it covered?"

"They are out-of-network and give you the paperwork to ask your plan for reimbursement. HSA, FSA, CareCredit, payment plans and FES-UA scholarships are accepted. Costs are explained at the evaluation."

Not for us, send same day to medical care: sudden new double vision, a new eye turn, eye pain, or vision loss.

Questions? Call (561) 462-1245 and ask for Jada, our referrals contact.
Dr. Murray is glad to talk with any of your therapists about a child.

